

2025 SEASON

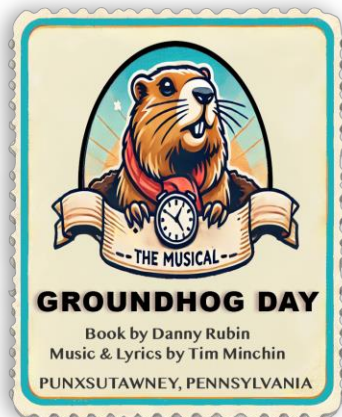

Come Travel with Us...

Steel Magnolias

Our first stop, the small town of Chinquapin, Louisiana, where we'll spend time in Truvy's salon. The ladies who are "anybody" come to have their hair done, discuss their lives, and gossip about others with sharp, hilarious dialogue. A tragedy brings out the underlying strength – and love – in their friendship, revealing them to be truly touching, funny and marvelously amiable company in good times and bad. Based on the author's own life, the play showcases the bond of Southern women.

March 28, 29 & April 4, 5, 6

Directed by Trish Nelke

Groundhog Day, the Musical

Next, we'll head to Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, for the annual Groundhog Day Ceremony. We'll meet Phil Connors, a seasoned big-city weatherman, whose arrogance and cynicism are in direct opposition to the cheery townsfolk awaiting their favorite groundhog to foretell when spring will arrive. After disdainfully covering the rodent's negative forecast, Phil awakens each day after, only to discover it's February 2 again. Will Phil accept that he is doomed to repeat the same day over and over again? Or will he find the courage to change himself and his fate? Inspired by the hilarious film.

July 25, 26 & August 1, 2, 3

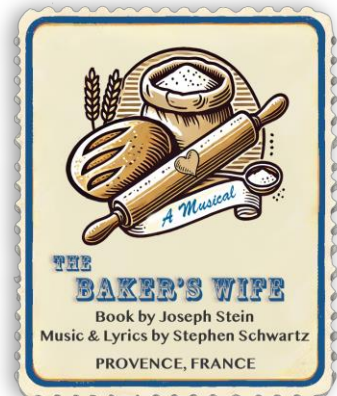

Directed by Dani Mann

The Baker's Wife

We'll finish our journey in Provence France, where it's 1935 and the bickering residents of the rural village have been without a baker for seven weeks. They finally find peace and contentment in the new middle-aged baker, Aimable, and his attractive young wife, Genevieve. However, when Genevieve is lured away by a handsome young gigolo, the baker loses all zest for life and baking. When he refuses to bake, the villagers must work as a team to bring Aimable and Genevieve back together. This romantic musical features old-world charm and a lush score.

November 7, 8, & 14, 15, 16

Directed by Stephanie Merritt
